Tito Tagged Big Winner In Stalin Expose

Yugoslavia Chieftain Long Defied One-Time Communist Dictator

NEW YORK (AP)—One big winner from Nikita Khrushchev's denunciation of Joseph Stalin is another Joseph—Josip Broz Tito, president of Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic sources here indicate Tito may have played a key role in persuading the top Soviet leaders they should openly denounce Stalin.

Later this year Tito is scheduled to go to Moscow. It will be a triumphal trip for one of the few Communist leaders who ever defied Stalin and lived.

Tito is the man who only little more than three years ago was being pictured in cartoons in the Soviet press as a dog and an executioner in a Gestapo uniform.

The Communist party newspaper Pravda now uses a respectful "Comrade Tito" when it discusses events in Yugoslavia.

The rapprochement between Tito and the Kremlin began soon after Stalin's death. At first it moved slowly. Diplomatic relations were normalized. The Soviet press dropped its anti-Tito campaign.

IN PRIVATE conversations, Khrushchev admitted to the Yugoslav ambassador that the fault for the break had been the Soviet's.

In early 1955 there was a heated exchange, however. It was caused by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's speech at the Supreme Soviet in which he attempted to picture the improvement in Soviet-Yugoslav relations as the result of Yugoslav repentance for its sins. Tito attacked Molotov for his statement. The Russians replied in effect by repudiating Molotov.

This set the stage for the trip of party boss Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai Bulganin to Belgrade. The initiative came from the Soviet side and Tito accepted the proposal.

When Khrushchev arrived in Belgrade he made an airport statement taking the blame on the Soviet Union for the difficulties between the two countries.

He said, however, it was the fault of the executed police chiefs, Lavrenty Beria and Victor Abakumov. Tito listened in silence.

The trip resulted in a general understanding between the two. But it's believed Tito made clear to Khrushchev that there would have to be an open break with Stalinism before Yugoslavia could consider moving closer to the Soviet camp.

Khrushchev went back to Moscow. Later in 1955 there was another journey of a top Soviet leader to Belgrade, little notice in the world's press but of great significance.

Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier, took his vacation in Yugoslavia in early autumn. He spent some weeks as Tito's personal guest. The two men, it's known, had a series of frank conversations. Tito, it is believed, stood on his position demanding an open break with Stalinism.

Twin Boy Involved In Slaying Freed

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Joseph Williams, who had been exonerated by his 14-year-old twin brother in the slaying of a Cub Scout, was free today on $5,000 bond.

Thomas Williams, who police say took sole blame for the bludgeoning of 9-year-old David Powell, remained in jail.

The body of the Powell boy was found in a coal cellar beneath the Williams' home last Feb. 10. The bond for Joseph will be a continuing one, remaining in effect throughout the trial, scheduled to begin April 2.

Palm Sunday

ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM—As Jesus and His disciples approached Jerusalem to observe the Passover, He told two of them, "Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat; loose him, and bring him hither. And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him." The disciples did as they had been commanded and, with Jesus seated upon the colt, the band resumed its journey into Jerusalem. As they proceeded, multitudes spread their garments and the branches of trees in the way, crying "Hosanna to the son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest." And they proclaimed, "This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee."

Russian Goal: Kill Religion

U. S. Clerics Outline Red Educational Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of Protestant clergymen returned from Russia yesterday and said the Soviet government has "increased the aggressiveness of scientific education as the means ultimately to eradicate religion."

They said they found that the church has more freedom in the Soviet Union now than in "preceding decades, but at the same time confronts a more subtle challenge" because of this educational policy.

A statement by the group was read at a news conference by Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia, president of the National Council of Churches.

The statement said the most severe limitation of the church in Russia was in the field of education, for there appeared to be no religious instruction, except in the home by parents, and by priests and ministers on "occasional visitations."

In return for freedom of worship, the statement said, Russian church leaders are "apparently inclined to go along with Soviet leadership" in important areas, notably peace propaganda.

"THERE SEEMS to be no interference with worship in the church," they said. "Congregations are large and devoid in the relatively few available churches, with a preponderance of older people and of women."

They said enrollment in the seminaries that are open is at capacity, that some churches have been repaired and a few new ones are being built, "though there are far from enough."

5 Puppies Saved With Respirators

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP)—Firemen put out a house fire and quickly went to work reviving the five smoke victims.

The bellows of the artificial respirators inflated and deflated evenly. In a few minutes yesterday the victims—all Pomeranian puppies—began breathing and wagging their tails.

Mrs. Peter Gyokors told firemen she had left an electric iron turned on when she went to work. Firemen estimated damage at $1,000.

Second Rowboat Mishap Is Fatal

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Four weeks ago a rowboat carrying a 13-year-old boy began to fill with water in Newark Bay. He was rescued.

Yesterday the same boat carrying the same boy and his cousin capsized in almost the same spot. This time he drowned.

The young victim was John Forgos of Jersey City.

Sen. Johnson, Gov. Lausche Under Fire From ADA Leader

COLUMBUS (AP)—Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action, charges that Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) has brought the Democratic party to "its lowest point in 25 years" by imitating rather than opposing the Eisenhower administration.

Rauh's statement last night was the strongest attack the ADA has yet made on the Democratic leadership in Congress. The ADA, which defines itself as a liberal organization, usually reserves such attacks for Republicans.

"Under the banner of Senate Majority Leader Johnson the congressional Democrats have become practically indistinguishable from the party they allegedly oppose," Rauh told the Columbus ADA chapter.

The ADA chairman also lashed at Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche, "one of the front-running dark horses for the Democratic presidential nomination."

He said Lausche got his start in the presidential contest when Sen. Richard Russell (D-Ga.) identified him as a "middle of the roader" last fall.

"YOU MAY BE sure," Rauh declared, "that when Gov. Lausche is placed in the middle of the road by Richard Russell, it is not the middle—nor even the same road—as we know it. It is the far right of another road going another direction."

Rauh said, "if the American people want a conservative government in Washington, they will pick the real McCoy—an honest-to-goodness conservative Republican."

"They won't take a chance on a 'doughface' Democrat who might not be able to control those wild-eyed liberals in his own party."

Rauh said in Civil War times the doughface was "a Northern politician accused of trucking to the South."

Kefauver did not name those opposing him. However, several top state Democrats went on the record for Stevenson after the 1952 standard bearer's California campaign last February.

They include national committee-man Paul Ziffren, Atty. Gen. Edmund (Pat) Brown and state chairman Elizabeth Snyder.

He said he did not sign the so-called Southern manifesto against the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling because "I don't believe in what it stands for. I don't see how any segment of our population can secede from the United States Supreme Court."

When a newsman asked if he would consider Stevenson as a vice presidential running mate, Kefauver replied:

"Mr. Stevenson is a very capable man, a man of fine character and I am certain he would make good in any position entrusted to him. But I have not given your question any previous thought."

David Walter, chairman of the board of the Symphony of the Air, suggested "there may have been one or two disgruntled people who were peeved and set this thing in motion."

Walter made this comment in New York after disclosure of the situation Friday night in publication by the House Appropriations Committee of secret testimony it took last week.

Robinson McIlvaine, deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, testified the FBI had uncovered derogatory information on about 30 persons in the 100-member orchestra. This musical group, now playing on a free lance basis, formerly was under leadership of Maestro Arturo Toscanini.

The committee hearing record did not list by name any of the persons whose conduct or background was questioned. Committee aides said only nine of the 30 suspect persons were on a similar orchestra trip last year under the State Department's cultural relations program aimed at countering Red propaganda.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A government recommendation for postponement of a strike set for Monday against the Nickel Plate Railroad has been accepted by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers.

Postponement of the strike pending mediation was announced by S. C. Phillips, assistant president of the brotherhood, after the National Railway Mediation Board assumed jurisdiction. The strike had been planned in a dispute over rules changes.

Kefauver Says California To Spell His Fate

Tennessee Convinced That Primary Victory To Assure Nomination

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver says the Democratic presidential nomination hinges on the California primary June 5 and he is confident it will swing his way.

The lanky Tennesseean told a crowd of 3,000 at Lincoln Park in Long Beach yesterday that "if I can win the California primary it will assure me of getting the nomination."

Earlier, Kefauver told a news conference: "I am confident I will carry the state."

California is indeed a juicy plum. Kefauver picked up 26 convention votes to Adlai Stevenson's 4 in the recent Minnesota upset. California, however, will send 68 voting delegates to the Democratic convention in August.

Since Kefauver arrived for a fast stepping, five-day Southern California campaign, he has been busy with the tactics which apparently paid off so handsomely in Minnesota and New Hampshire: several speeches each day, as much handshaking as possible and a constant attack on the administration's farm and foreign policies.

THE SENATOR also has been outspoken in his backing of the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling.

As in Minnesota, where important state Democrats backed Stevenson, Kefauver faces party opposition in California. He said he does not believe this opposition is as strong as it was in Minnesota but that some California party leaders are throwing roadblocks against him.

"They have tried to make the Kefauver picture so dark that I wouldn't come in," he said. "They tried to freeze me out, but I think the people are with me. I am confident I am picking up strength in California."

Kefauver did not name those opposing him. However, several top state Democrats went on the record for Stevenson after the 1952 standard bearer's California campaign last February.

They include national committee-man Paul Ziffren, Atty. Gen. Edmund (Pat) Brown and state chairman Elizabeth Snyder.

He said he did not sign the so-called Southern manifesto against the Supreme Court's desegregation ruling because "I don't believe in what it stands for. I don't see how any segment of our population can secede from the United States Supreme Court."

When a newsman asked if he would consider Stevenson as a vice presidential running mate, Kefauver replied:

"Mr. Stevenson is a very capable man, a man of fine character and I am certain he would make good in any position entrusted to him. But I have not given your question any previous thought."

Lily Parade Climax To Campaign For Crippled Children

The current fund drive for the Pickaway County Society for Crippled Children and Adults was climaxed today with the annual Easter Lily Parade. However, the actual campaign will not be over until April 10.

The Rev. Fred Ketner, president of the group, announced Friday that a total of $1,142.10 has already been collected through the first 12 days of the Easter Seal drive. These receipts represent cash, checks and money orders received in exchange for sheets of Easter Seals sent to more than 6,000 county residents, he pointed out.

Easter Seal contributions may be sent to Crippled Children, c/o The Local Postmaster, the Rev. Mr. Ketner explained.

In answer to questions raised by local residents, the Rev. Mr. Ketner declared that the society is not permitted to enter cooperative fund-raising campaigns such as the Community Fund. However, he added, the society does cooperate with other recognized local groups working for the welfare of crippled or otherwise physically handicapped persons.

Sunday will be the 135th anniversary of Greek independence from Turkey. Observers said they feared pro-Greek Cypriotes were preparing for widespread moves Sunday against British rule.

Ike Seriously Ill Six Months Ago

Last Half-Year Drama-Packed From Oxygen Tent To Election Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six months ago today President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack. Now he's running for reelection. In between there has been plenty of drama.

The word from Denver last Sept. 24 stunned the world. Few believed that day as Eisenhower lay under an oxygen tent that he ever would seek another term. The prayers that day were that he would live.

But five months and five days later, on Feb. 29, the President pronounced himself "a recovered heart patient" on the basis of reports from his doctors, and announced he was available for a second term.

By that time the announcement came as no surprise. All along the physicians had been reporting steady progress, and on Feb. 14 they said Eisenhower appeared fit for "another 5 to 10 years" in a job like the presidency.

That delighted Republican leaders. The delight changed to jubilation when he made his reelection bid.

FROM some quarters there came immediately a contention that seems likely to resound throughout the campaign, that Eisenhower would be a parttime President.

Eisenhower himself said he was giving up some of his ceremonial duties as a host and was delegating to associates some work he used to handle personally. But he also said "there is not the slightest doubt that I can perform, as well as I ever have, all of the important duties of the presidency."

When he first returned to his White House desk Jan. 9, the President limited his business day to about six hours. He got in a mid-day rest prescribed by his doctors, and still does.

But lately he has been working longer hours, sometimes into the evening. And he has been getting to a few social functions of the sort which were dropped from his calendar altogether.

Also popping up again on his daily engagement list are guests in a category which just about disappeared for a time. Last week he greeted the 1956 Easter Seal Girl, received 4-H Club award winners, and went out into the White House rose garden to say a few words to the United Service Organization workers.

Yesterday, the White House announced the President will throw out the first ball at the season's opening baseball game here between Washington and New York on April 17.

The President hopes to go to Augusta, Ga., April 9 or 10 for a week's vacation.

News Briefs

UGLEY, England (AP)—From now on the ladies club in this little village will be known as the "Women's Institute (Ugley branch)," instead of the "ugly Women's Institute."

Members who decided to make the change said it was too much trouble to keep explaining that the word is pronounced "Oogley."

GUATEMALA (AP)—Police pressed an investigation today into a bomb throwing which injured at least 30 persons—4 seriously—during a university students' parade.

Eyewitnesses said two bombs were hurled from a rooftop Friday during the annual parade which lampoons the government, church and other institutions.

Archbishop Mariano Rosell Arellano had urged Roman Catholics to shun the parade. He termed it sacrilegious.

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Vienna Catholic newspaper Kleines Volksblatt reported today that Roman Catholic Archbishop Josef Groesz, sentenced to 15 years in prison in 1951 on charges of plotting to overthrow the government with U. S. help.

Two unidentified priests convicted with the archbishop also were freed, the newspaper said. Hungary announced last Oct. 13 it was suspending the archbishop's sentence.

Pictures Tell Bomb Damage On Hiroshima

TOKYO (AP)—Pictures of atomic bomb damage and victims at Hiroshima were uncovered today at the "Family of Man" photography exhibition.

The pictures were draped with white cloth yesterday when Emperor Hirohito visited the exhibit. There was no explanation for the decision to put the pictures back on view.

Local sponsors said Friday's cover up was "not for His Majesty alone."

"We stopped showing the Hiroshima pictures to anyone," they said, "because they had created a furor."

The spokesman said the pictures had been added for the local showing at the suggestion of Edward Steichen, famed American photographer who assembled the collection for the New York Museum of Modern Art.

In New York, however, Steichen said he had no part in the display of atomic bomb victims.

He said: "I did not authorize the addition of any group of photographs of bomb victims. In my opinion that would be like rubbing salt into an open wound. If such pictures have been added, they should certainly be removed."

Ohio Hog Prices Showing Increase

COLUMBUS (AP)—A higher trend in prices for both butcher hogs and sows was the significant feature of Ohio's hog market this week, the state bureau of markets reported.

Average price received by farmers for live hogs at some 70 markets in central and western Ohio this week was $13.65 as compared with $12.50 for the week ended March 17. This is an increase of $1.15 per hundred pounds for No. 2 average good butcher hogs in the 180-220 pound class.

Receipts at the 70 markets surveyed numbered 52,500 head compared with 42,000 last week.

Billy Graham Radio Setup Gets Sponsor

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC has announced that evangelist Billy Graham and his group will appear on its radio network as a sponsored program starting April 22.

The announcement marked a change in NBC policy. Heretofore all religious programs have been sustained on the network on a noncommercial basis.

The Graham group will be heard on a Sunday series from 10 to 10:30 p. m. The program, "Hour of Decision," will be sponsored by the Walter F. Bennett Co., a Chicago agency that handles religious accounts.

Free Nations Need Boost To Fight Commies

Secretary Of State Says He's Encouraged By Asian Attitudes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles left no doubt today that the Eisenhower administration intends to make an all-out fight for more foreign aid as a "vital" weapon in the new conflict with communism.

"If we wish to see the free world preserved and enlarged," he told the nation last night, "we must help, or forces of despotism will take control."

Dulles reported by radio and television on his first-hand impressions of conditions in Asia where he visited 10 countries during the last three weeks.

His report generally was an optimistic one. He said he was "encouraged" about the future of Asia even though "Soviet and Chinese economic tactics are a danger."

The one spot in the Far East where "conflict most threatens," he said, is the area of Formosa, the Nationalist Chinese stronghold long sought by the Chinese Reds. He noted the United States is working "patiently and persistently" to obtain agreement with the Communists on a renunciation of force there.

DULLES SAID he came back from his trip "more than ever convinced of the vital importance" of American foreign aid, both past and future.

But he said this country has no desire to dominate other nations, and "does not seek ties of mutual defense with any country whatsoever" unless that country wants such ties. It wants only the independence and improvement of the free nations, he added.

His speech thus was designed in part as an appeal for American support of administration foreign policy, particularly the foreign aid program now in Congress, and in part as a reassurance to the Asian peoples.

The new foreign aid program calling for $4.9 billion was sent to Congress by President Eisenhower Monday.

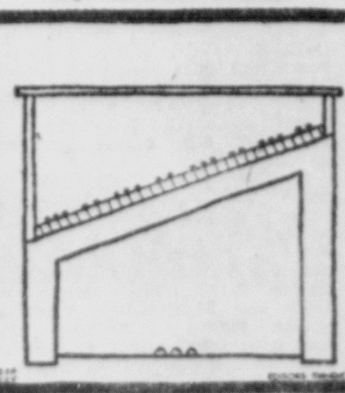

The President furthermore asked authority to pledge up to $100 million a year for 10 years to long-term foreign construction projects. That feature, as well as the increased size of the program, is already under sharp congressional criticism.

Dulles said Russia "is trying to insinuate" its technical experts into key posts in lands which the Russians "hope to dominate." He reported that the Soviets are also playing on Asian fears of Western colonialism and holding out bright promises of economic assistance and industrial development.

"But I found," he said, "that the leaders are quite aware of the danger of penetration by international communism, and of the fact that Soviet and Chinese Communists' economic lures generally go with a hook and line that leads to Moscow or Peking."

DROODLES

By ROGER PRICE

"PIANO WITH REAL HIGH NOTES"

Actually there's no such piano as this, although it does resemble the one we've got over at the P.S.S.T. (Flying Saucer Spotters of Terra) Meeting Hall. Dr. Schweine built it out of three old busted pianos he salvaged from neighborhood basements and even though it has 264 keys, it plays fine because only 88 of the keys work. Before we had the piano we used to open our Spotting Sessions with all members singing our theme song, "How High the Moon", a capella style, but with the piano there and since I've been taking music lessons we are now able to have an accompaniment to the theme song. Which incidentally has been changed to "Chopsticks."

Trio From City Hurt In Crash In Ross County

Three local residents, two of them students in Circleville High School, were hurt when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve and overturned 6.5 miles north of Chillicothe on Route 23 Friday night.

All are reported in "good" condition in Chillicothe Hospital. The State Patrol said that at least two of them were thrown from the car by the time the car came to a halt in thick brush in a gully.

Gerald R. Hixon, 20, whose residence is listed as the rear of 222 E. Main St., apparently was the driver. He suffered abrasions of the face, hands and legs plus possible internal injuries.

Kendall Dawson, 17, of 142 E. Mill St., received lacerations and abrasions of his face and head. He also suffered possible internal injuries.

TED DAVIS, 16, of 108 1/2 S. Court St., suffered a fractured pelvis and fractured right ankle. He too has possible internal injuries.

The State Patrol reported that the car apparently went out of control on the wet pavement near a railroad underpass.

New Mail Trucks Have English Drive

BALTIMORE (AP) — Thirty-four red, white and blue trucks with right-hand drive, panoramic windshields and "sit-stand" type of seating are cruising Baltimore streets these days.

The English drive means the mailman can pull up to the curb and step out without endangering life or limb. Or on the rural routes, he can lean out to pop the mail in the boxes.

Neal A. Sibley, postmaster, believes the small trucks will make it possible to serve an eight-hour route in seven hours.

Very Early Traffic Training Is Urged

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville youngsters will learn traffic safety early in life if Mayor Andrew Broaddus has his way.

The mayor says he is planning a junior size street system with miniature sidewalks, traffic signals, signs and possibly small motor-driven cars.

It would be used as an outdoor traffic "classroom" for children.

The mayor commented: "We not only would be teaching our youngsters traffic safety, but also respect for our traffic laws and our policemen."

Harriman Tagged As Real Candidate

HAVERSTRAW, N. Y. (AP) — Michael Prendergast, New York State Democratic chairman, said last night Gov. Averell Harriman's name, if entered for the Democratic presidential nomination, would not be presented as a favorite son but as a realistic candidate.

Prendergast, president at the Rockland County Democratic Convention here to select a county slate for next fall's elections.

15-Year Old Youth Accused In Theft

The case of a 15-year old boy accused of stealing $20 from a restaurant in Ashville has been turned over to Pickaway County juvenile authorities, the sheriff's department reported today.

The teenager was accused of taking the money from the Cozy Corner Restaurant, where he once worked, across from the Ashville-Harrison School. Deputies said the money has been returned.

St. Philip's Church Reveals Schedule For Palm Sunday

St. Philip's Church begins its observance of Holy Week Sunday morning at the 8 a. m. celebration of The Holy Communion together with the blessing and distribution of crosses made of palm branches to each member of the congregation. At this early service, and for all the services this week until Good Friday, the altar will be vested in purple with purple veiling over the Altar Cross and the Processional Cross as reminders to the people of the passion of Christ.

At the 9 a. m. family service, parents and their children will hear the story of the first Palm Sunday as the Rector relates the account as based on The Gospel According to St. Mark, Ch. 11:1-11. The palm crosses will be distributed at the end of the service.

The Palm Sunday Procession will begin at 10:30 a. m. as the start of the late service of the day in the parish. Clayton Vaughan, trumpeter for the day, will sound the fanfare, with which the procession will begin, as a symbolic representation of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem on the first Palm Sunday.

Participating in the choral procession will be members of the Acolytes Guild as led by the crucifer, Lawrence Miga, and the flag bearers, David Hutzelman and Norton Barnes. The parish junior choir members are under the direction of Mr. John O'Donnell, and members of the senior choir under the direction of Mrs. Helen Gunning. All members of the procession will carry branches of palms.

In his address of the day, the Rev. Jack C. Bennett, Rector of St. Philip's Church, will discuss the dual meaning of Palm Sunday as symbolized in the procession of triumph and the presentation of the crosses to the congregation in his sermon entitled "Triumph and The Cross".

Following the late service, there will be a lunch in the parish house beginning at noon for all members of the parish participating in the quiet time of meditation and instruction being held in the afternoon. Retreatments will follow the theme announced earlier by the Rector, "Prayer, Its Nature and Its Practice", with emphasis being made on observance of Holy Week as a time of spiritual growth.

The palm crosses to be distributed at all services in the church on Palm Sunday will be by members of the Junior Altar Guild working under the supervision of Mrs. Leora Sayre.

How Do You Worship GOD?

Ask that question of 100 people and you'll get 100 answers.

Episcopalians believe there's only one answer — you worship God as a part of a group of people meeting together on the Lord's Day and in His Church.

And we believe that the service of worship is something in which everyone should take part. That's why we Anglicans — 40,000,000 of us the world over — use "The Book of Common Prayer" (in whatever country it's used, it's in the language of the country) so that we may all take part in the service.

We're convinced that when we worship God in this way, we'll be the better able to carry that worship of God out into our everyday lives in the world in which we live and work.

The teaching of the Episcopal Church is practical, workable, down to earth — a religious approach that helps you to use Christianity to meet the problems of every day living. We find in the Church and its Sacraments a source of strength and comfort beyond words to describe.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

MOSCOW'S NEW SHOW
TOP ECHELON Russians are difficult to classify except on the score of intent to gobble up the Western world by any ruse. Their ruses are coming with bewildering rapidity.

A movie currently popular in Moscow is entitled, "San Francisco, Chicago and New York." Whereas the United States had been depicted in Russia previously by such items as slums, demonstrating crowds called hunger mobs and the seamier aspects of Harlem, this exhibit is no such picture.

Made in color, the 50-minute travelogue is actually flattering. It shows the U. S. with an impressive skyline and with glittering merchandise available to the common man.

Ivan is reported to be reacting enthusiastically to scenes showing suburban housing developments and gorgeous displays of creature comforts.

Either the Kremlin jokers have concluded they can concede the higher standards of living in other countries without losing the loyalty of their subjects or they are getting ready to make the glowing promise that the Soviet system is about to supply even more of the good material things to the common man.

In either case, one can be sure the Kremlin is not engaging in propaganda adverse to its long term ambition to conquer the world.

HER LIFE BEGINS AT 40
A WOMAN OVER 40 needs a job, in the opinion of a panel of experts who discussed the question recently over the radio. One speaker went so far as to say that careers for older women are a "moral must."

A psychologist on the panel said that if this advice were generally taken, most manufacturers of sleeping pills and potions would go out of business. Older persons, he added, have important gifts to make to society, to repay what society has given them.

The panel didn't go into the question of whether society would be willing to use these important gifts if they were offered. Deciding to take a job is sometimes easier than finding one.

One drawback to the suggestion for women over 40, as the panel recognized, is that many of them are not prepared for posts in the outside world. Their lives may be empty, whether they are unmarried or their children are leaving the nest, but they feel too much apathy to strike out in a new direction.

The sense of doing something useful is one of the most important ingredients in personal happiness, and the lack of such a feeling makes for discontent and loss of self-confidence. It is evident that woman suffrage hasn't solved all woman's problems. Voting is not a career.

LIGHT METAL ERA
MORE ALUMINUM will go into 1957 model automobiles than ever before, according to a dispatch from Detroit. Last year an average of 35 pounds of aluminum was used in each car, compared to 30 pounds in the 1954 models.

It is obvious that manufacturers find new advantages in aluminum year by year. One of the most recent is that by employing aluminum it is possible to get all the colors of the rainbow into radiator grilles, hub caps and other car trim. Increased tonnage of aluminum to go into next year's cars will be mainly for replacement of chromium parts, and it will not be silver colored. Gold color will predominate in the trim of some models.

One-sixteenth of U. S. aluminum production, or approximately 250 million pounds, is now used by the automobile industry. Some current models weigh 300 pounds less than they would if aluminum were not widely used. While trim offers the greatest field for increased use of aluminum in automobiles, currently 50 per cent of the metal that goes into the average car is used in the automatic transmission and 30 per cent in the engine.

The fact that the nation has an arsenal of weapons for war and against a possible depression makes it unlikely that either will be needed.

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days

One of the Soviet means of conquering by infiltration is the formation of a grid of advisers and experts who are stationed in the principal areas of a country and who act not only as spies but as agitators. As the Russian government owns all the means of production and distribution, every person employed in any industry is an employee of the Russian government, and, as they manage things, dependent upon the Communist Party for his advancement.

On March 2, an American company called Dresser Industries, through its Vice President, J. B. O'Connor, signed an agreement with the All-Union Mashino-Export Union (I am quoting the Tass text from Moscow) by which the Dresser Industries would be licensed to produce "Soviet-designed turbo-drills" in the United States. The Tass report states:

"This agreement provides for giving Dresser Industries the technical documentation necessary for the production of the Soviet-designed turbo-drills for the drilling of oil and gas wells in rocks of different density, as well as for the sending to the United States of a group of Soviet engineers who will participate in experimental drilling.

"Dresser Industries will pay for the abovementioned license by paying the All-Union Mashino-Export Union a percentage of the value of the turbo-drills produced and sold by the company, as well as of spare parts for them.

"In addition to this, Dresser Industries will transmit to the All-Union Mashino-Export Union the technological information for producing chisels for the drilling of oil and gas wells. Both sides have also agreed on exchanging information on all changes which will be introduced into the design of the turbo-drills described in the assigned license.

"The agreement is valid for 10 years." What is important in this report is that Soviet engineers are to be stationed in the United States. Khurshechev, in his denunciation of Stalin, has given us a fair picture of their system and we ought not to agree to permit the increase of Russian agents in this country.

This phase of the Dresser Industries contract ought to be investigated fully, particularly as it is a violation of the McCarran-Walters Immigration Act and probably before these fellows are here long, they will be violating the Smith Act or otherwise they have to be altogether inarticulate.

Actually, I wonder if the Dresser Industries have a contract. It is curious that Tass should have broadcast this item to all European countries on the radio the very day that the agreement was signed.

This would indicate that it was being used for propaganda in Europe to show that the Americans were coming to Russia for technical engineering assistance; that this country is so poor in engineering that in one of its most important and highly-developed fields, it is doing so badly that it has to get Russian blueprints for making what American engineers do not know how to make.

And there is always somebody who thinks he can get ahead and make a big deal out of that sort of thing. So he goes over to Moscow and they work out a contract which on paper looks innocent but which on the radio in the satellite countries makes a patsy out of Uncle Sam.

It is this Tass broadcast that interests me more than whether Dresser Industries, whoever they may be, make a couple of extra dollars out of this particular drill. Maybe if I knew anything about engineering, I would realize even more than I now suspect that the contract will produce nothing and was designed to produce nothing.

I recall a similar incident, maybe 30 odd years ago, in China, when an American company came along and signed an agreement and made big loans to the Chinese government which gave this company a monopoly of certain products. When I told the great man from the United States that he had no contract, he thought I was crazy.

In the end, his thinking so cost his company several million dollars. The way the Chinese worked it was to have him negotiate with the wrong officials, so that all the signatures were the wrong ones.

The "chops" were wrong, a chop being a seal which is the official and infallible signature. The contract was entered upon for internal political reasons, to strengthen the party in power. It is a great game if you know how to play it.

Surpluses were formerly controlled in this country by cutting prices. Now the surpluses are managed by keeping prices up.

In the great game of international poker it seems as if most of the diplomats are playing their aces and deuces wild.

CHAPTER TWENTY

LOUISE HELPED Meg to the couch, shoving shirts, neckties and other apparel off it. "There. Want another pillow under your head?" "No," Meg closed her eyes. Her teeth chattered realistically. "I'm so cold. Perhaps a hot water bottle?"

"We don't have one." If you did, Meg thought, I'd have a fit. "Mrs. Walsh?" "Sure," Louise turned readily. "Sure, the old girl's sure to have one. Take it easy, Mrs. Beaumont. I'll fetch her."

"No!" Meg's groan wasn't counterfeited now. "She—she talks so! My head..." There was an instant's silence. Meg ventured to open her eyes and saw Louise's understanding grin.

"Sure. Her cackle does me that way too. I'll muzzle her. We'll heat the water downstairs. It won't take long."

Meg waited until Louise ran down the stairs, listened to the rise of Carrie's excited voice. Then she sprang to her feet with the agility of Jezebel after a mouse.

She looked wildly about her. Where should she start? The closet? She had only a short time at best.

The Fenner closet was crowded and unrewarding. Meg rifled through the wardrobe and spotted a small trunk against the back wall. Instantly she dropped to her knees, elated to find the trunk unlocked. Throwing back the lid, she gaped at its contents. Pictures and photographs by the dozen. She looked at unfamiliar faces and dug deeper. Theater programs. A lot of good they were! Why should the Fenners keep so many of them?

She sorted through the pictures until she spotted Darcy with a girl who looked like Louise's older sister. There were other pictures of the same girl. She was still burrowing when she heard a door close downstairs. She barely made it back to the couch before Carrie, puffing noisily, came in with Louise at her heels.

"There now!" Carrie put the hot water bottle at Meg's feet, bent over to sponge her forehead with a wadded cloth instead with the odor of camphor.

When she had endured Carrie's ministrations to the point of saturation, she insisted on sitting up. "I must get home, Mrs. Walsh. Perhaps you'll call a hack?" She smiled at Louise. "You've both been so good. I'm sorry I was such a nuisance."

"Now that ain't true," Carrie protested. "Want I should ride home with you?" "No, no, it's not at all necessary."

"Louise," Carrie commanded. "I'm neither policeman nor detective."

Meg sniffed. "You find out more about people in a shorter length of time than anybody else does. And you ought to be right at home where Darcy Fenner was—and I mean saloons and gambling places and—and dives!" She bore down. "See here, Uncle Tim, couldn't Darcy have heard that David's father was ill, was going to die, would certainly leave his money to David? Maybe they came to Seattle."

"Frisco! It is mad you are, girl. I'm neither policeman nor detective."

Russia's Georgie Malenkov says Stalinist excesses have been eliminated in the Soviet Union. And anyone who disagrees, suggests F. E. F., no doubt will be shot on the spot.

After erupting for 75 days the Italian volcano Stromboli has subsided. Just fresh out of gas?

Not a word to throw to a body all day long, and then when her brother comes home, she talks till I vow I'm right sorry for him havin' to listen. Ah well, we all got troubles."

Carrie and Meg were at the gate when Louise rejoined them. "Hack'll be here in a jiff. She gave Meg a full, assessing glance. "Thanks for the hat, Mrs. Beaumont."

"You're so welcome." Meg felt heat in her face. It wasn't comfortable to be a sneak and a hypocrite. She remembered David's defeated air and hardened her heart.

Only when she was blocked away from the Walsh house did Meg venture to change the directions given the hack driver. "My Uncle Tim O'Brien lives there," she explained. Even a hack driver shouldn't be led into speculation about why a lone woman needed for a hotel.

In the hotel lobby, she braved the admiring curiosity of the men and induced the flustered clerk by her warmest smile to produce Uncle Tim. He was as good as his promise, for Tim came flying down the stairs, adjusting his suspenders on the way.

"Meg! You hear from Kemp? Johnny sick?" "No, no, we're all right. I want to talk to you, Uncle Tim. Isn't there anywhere private?"

Tim considered. "Guess the writing room's private enough." He led her into an alcove sheltering two battered desks. "You in trouble, Meg? Your cheeks are red as peonies."

Meg ignored this. "Listen to me, Uncle Tim. And don't interrupt." When she finished, she frowned. "I wish I could have stolen those pictures and programs. One of the pictures looked just like Louise dressed in different clothes, grown-up ones, that is. I'm sure Louise is older than she claims and that David's being victimized. I want you to go to San Francisco and find out everything you can about the Fenners. The brother used to work for David's father."

"Frisco! It is mad you are, girl. I'm neither policeman nor detective." Meg sniffed. "You find out more about people in a shorter length of time than anybody else does. le just to swindle David." Tim wagged his head in confusion. "Such thinking is not for my head. Still, 'tis true that Darcy is a conniver. Nobody but a conniver could have cleaned me at poker, and I am still questioning whether he didn't swindle the cards in some fashion of his own."

"There!" Meg was triumphant. "You've got to go, Uncle Tim. Kemp would go in a minute, if he was here."

She saw Uncle Tim waver, thrust home her clincher. "You're my only kin, Uncle Tim. And you can do it! Didn't Honora always say you could nose out secrets before you were free of three-cornered pants?"

Tim chuckled and sat straighter. "Well—" "If you need money, I could spare some, Uncle Tim."

"No, I'm well-heeled, girl, keep your nickels." He looked curiously at her. "I had no notion you were all this fond of Anna Lurkins."

Meg murmured, half-wanting to tell him she was fed up with Anna, that all her sympathy was with David, but she restrained herself. Actually, she hardly understood her own obsession about David. She was not, she acknowledged, a person who went around doing good for the sake of it. Part of her need to help David grew out of her feeling that they shared loneliness. Surrounded by people, yet deserted by the one most important to you, you were solitary. Michael needed help too. He admitted a defense for David was rough going.

She left Tim with his promise to go to San Francisco on the first boat. Going home, she wondered why she had tackled him rather than Michael or even Jason. If Kemp had kept his golden-witch-hunting nose at home where it belonged, none of this would have happened. Kemp's wife would never have dreamed of sticking her own nose into a seduction case.

Everybody, she thought uncomfortably, chased one golden witch or another. The miners sought gold; Kemp hunted wealth and the will-o'-the-wisp of adventure; Jason grabbed money and power. What did Michael want? Charlotte Linden, of course, though he probably didn't expect to get her. Meg acknowledged her own golden witch. She wanted the Fleur hat shop to be the best one in Seattle; she wanted to flaunt her self-sufficiency in the faces of her father and Kemp—maybe the world too.

Meg pulled her mind from the intangibles of golden witches. She would tell only Michael her scheme. Three people were plenty to house a secret.

And on association: "A man is known by the books he reads, by the company he keeps, by the praise he gives, by his dress, by his tastes, by the stories he tells, by the look of his house; for nothing on earth is solitary and everything hath affinities infinite."

DIET AND HEALTH

Burping Is Necessary For Baby's Comfort

By NERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHILE belching or burping when dining may be extremely impolite for an adult, it's a very necessary function for a baby.

Swallows Air
Whether he is bottle-fed or breast-fed, your young infant will gulp a lot of air along with the milk. Crying also causes him to swallow air.

This is apt to give him a stomach ache and make him fussy. In addition, it fills his stomach and will take up room needed for milk.

Unless he is belched—call it burped, bubbled or whatever you want—he may sleep poorly and a good portion of his food may come up with the air bubbles after he has been put to bed.

If you're tired when you give your baby his nighttime feeding, you can usually talk yourself into believing that he gave a small burp which you could barely hear. Don't make this mistake.

Screams Of Pain
Keep patting him until you get a good loud belch. Otherwise, he is apt to wake you during the night with his screams of pain.

Now, about the method to be used. Holding him against your shoulder probably is the easiest and one of the most effective. Pat him gently on the back until he belches. It may take several minutes. Or, place him over your shoulder. Bending him at the waist this way forces the air to be expelled in a burp.

Pat Him On Back
Still another way is to sit him on your lap and pat him on the back.

I think you'll find the burp comes a lot easier if you burp a young baby when he's about one-third through with his milk. Burp him once more about two-thirds through and again after he's finished.

For some youngsters, two burps per meal is enough. Generally, you can cut down on the number of burpings as he grows older.

Eventually, he'll burp himself. This makes things a lot easier for both of you.

County Students Combine Talents In Music Festival

Occasion Features 2 Guest Conductors

More than 800 county school students Friday night blended their voices in two choruses and more than 100 musicians from these schools combined their talents in the annual Pickaway County Music Festival.

The musical extravaganza, a joint effort of the county schools, was attended by approximately 1,000 persons in the county fairgrounds coliseum.

The event featured two guest conductors—Prof. Jack Evans of Ohio State University and Prof. Lee L. Shackson of Otterbein College.

The one and one-half hour show, culminating many long hours of practice, was very well presented and was well-received by the audience.

The 443-voice Junior High Chorus, led by Professor Shackson, opened the evening's program with four selections. Outstanding in this group of songs was the "Donkey Serenade", sung by the girls' chorus alone. The boys and girls combined, also turned in a good rendition of "Born To Be Free."

Professor Evans led the 76-piece county orchestra in four selections in which the group performed very well. A medley of songs from "Hans Christian Anderson" highlighted this portion of the music festival.

The presentation of these gay and delightful songs by the orchestra was excellent. The stirring piece "The Scouts March" also was well-performed.

The third portion of the festival featured the Senior High mixed chorus of 416 voices. Included in this group's repertoire was the wonderfully delightful and melodic "Beautiful Ohio." The girls' chorus, in rendering this selection, turned in an outstanding performance.

Other numbers which were well-done by the chorus were "Down The Open Road", "Climbin' Up The Mountain", and "These Things Shall Be".

The 129 piece county band closed the festival with four selections, highlighted by the rhythmic number of "When The Saints Go Marching In", in which the group ably captured the true Southland spirit.

Another number which seemed to catch the fancy of the audience was "American Patrol". "Singing Sands" and "Bells of St. Mary's" also were played by the group.

88 Persons Attend WSCS Meeting At Salem Church

Twenty-seven members and 61 guests attended the meeting of Salem's Women Society of Christian Service which was held at the church.

Included in the guests, were: 20 from Kingston; four from Bethel; nine from Crouse Chapel; 15 from Emmett's Chapel; one from Morris Church; and 11 other visitors.

Mrs. Harold Riffle led devotions entitled "Ventures in Discipleship." The group sang "O, Jesus I Have Promised". Mrs. Vera Miller read "What is Discipleship?" Response reading was followed by prayer. The group sang "O, Master Let Me Walk With Thee". The Rev. Lester Taylor had the benediction.

Mrs. Fairy Alkire, president, conducted a short business meeting. Members voted to send $3 to the Rome MYF at Stoutsville.

Mrs. Vera Miller and Mrs. Ira Barr sang "Were You There". Guest speaker was Mr. Roy Yoder, district president from Lancaster.

Mrs. Jesse Hildenbrand and Mrs. Vera Miller served at the tea table.

NYPS Of Church Of Nazarene Has Fish Fry Event

A fish fry was held by the NYPS of the Church of the Nazarene, paying tribute to the winners of the Herald of Holiness campaign.

The event was held in the home of President Merle Swank of Circleville Route 1 where everyone brought a covered-dish.

Games were played throughout the evening and songs were sung by the chorus. Prayer closed the evening's activities.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Swank, and family, The Rev. and Mrs. Dale Fruehling and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Loring Allen and daughter, Beverly, Mrs. Louise Lake and daughter, Mary, Mrs. Betty Snyder, and Miss Nancy Waple.

Others were: Mrs. Pat Manpon, Miss Betty and Sue Anderson, Darold Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. James Crabtree and family, Mr.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Holds Party For Pledges

Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a party in Wardell's Party Home for the group's pledges.

The initiates were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Stewart Martin. An invitation was presented to Mrs. Martin from the Chillicothe Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to attend the unit's Foundress Day Banquet and Dance.

After hearing an outline of plans for an altar in the chapel at the Old Folks Home, members voted to present the altar to the Home.

Mrs. Thomas Thorne, Mrs. Paul Francis and Mrs. Lloyd Cox, committee members in charge of arrangements, chose a St. Patrick's Day theme for the decorations.

Members and guests were seated in the main dining room at a T-shaped banquet table, centered with yellow daffodils and tall yellow and green tapers. Green nut cups in the shape of shamrocks sprinkled with silver, were used as place cards. Yellow daffodil corsages with shamrock name cards were presented to the ladies. A dessert-course was served by candle-light.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh showed slides of her trip to India, where she attended the wedding of a former exchange student who had made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Defenbaugh while he was here. After showing the slides, she displayed gifts which she and her husband received from the groom.

She closed her program saying that their American passports and the fact they were Americans gave them a place of honor all through their world trip.

Guests for the evening included: Mrs. Regis Kifer, Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Leora Sayre, Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. Grover Dresbach, Mrs. Cox, Mrs. George Hamrick, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Walter Fisher, Miss Catherine Bochar, Mrs. Richard Swenson, Miss Mary McLaughlin, Miss Dorothy Bowling, Mrs. Miles Reifer, Mrs. Harold Snook, Mrs. Leroy Slusser, Mrs. Defenbaugh, Mrs. Olen Black, and Mrs. Pauline Goodchild, social sponsor.

BPW Club Elects Officers At March Dinner-Meeting

The Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club elected officers at the organization's March dinner-meeting held in the Mecca Restaurant.

Miss Clarissa Talbut was re-elected for another year and Mrs. George Neff was named vice-president of the group.

Others elected were Jo Ann Brink, recording secretary; Mrs. Ernest Young, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Clydus Fausnaugh, treasurer.

Miss Mary Kennedy was named as the local group's delegate to the national convention which is to be held at Miami, Fla.

The Circleville club will be host to the leadership convention scheduled for June 10. Mrs. Paul Brown is the general chairman of the event.

Mrs. Norman Ritter announced that the Women's Association will hold a rummage and bake sale at the Armory, April 20 and 21.

Club members were told that the Girl Graduate Banquet would be held at 6:30 p. m. April 26. Mrs. Paul Brown is in charge of the program and Miss Kennedy will serve as general chairman.

A committee, composed of Miss Brink, Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, and Miss Fern Wise, presented an Irish program.

Mrs. Defenbaugh gave a brief and interesting background talk on Irish music, with Miss Brink, Miss Weta Mae Leist, and Mrs. Joan McPherson, offering vocal and instrumental selections to carry out the theme of the story.

Trailmakers Class To Assist At Meet

The Trailmakers Class of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church agreed to serve refreshments for the men at their district brotherhood meeting scheduled for April 13 at the church.

Class members also voted, at their meeting held in the home of Mrs. Harry Lutz, to purchase flowers for Easter services. Later, these flowers will be presented to members of the church who are ill.

Mrs. Lewis Cook was in charge of devotions and she used as her text the 6th chapter of John. This was followed by the reading of an Easter fantasy entitled "The Hour Before Dawn."

At the close of the session, refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. C. Shasteen.

New Zealand's Top Trotter On Way To Test U. S. Stars

COLUMBUS—Vodka, New Zealand's fastest trotter, is on his way to this country for a shot at America's top trotting stars. It marks the first instance of a harness horse from either New Zealand or Australia being shipped to America for racing purposes.

In company with his owner-trainer-driver, Jack Shaw, Vodka left New Zealand Feb. 29 aboard the freighter Wendover. The Wendover is scheduled to arrive in Philadelphia about April 1 and Vodka will be unloaded there and vanned to Roosevelt Raceway, Westbury, N. Y.

Shaw anticipates that it will require an additional six weeks to bring his 9-year-old gelding back to racing form. After that he plans to enter him at Roosevelt, where the season opens April 1, and later hopes to visit other tracks throughout the country.

Canton McKinley Due To Provide Opposition In Final Class A Tilt

CLEVELAND (P)—Middletown's mighty Middles were odds-on favorites today to win their sixth Ohio high school Class A basketball championship after reaching the finals for the seventh time on the wings of the greatest scoring spree the 34-year-old cage classic has ever witnessed.

Canton McKinley's Bulldogs, four times runners-up for the laurels but never a winner, will furnish the opposition. Canton swamped Columbus North 70 to 44 in Friday night's semi-finals to win the honor of engaging the Middles in combat.

Paul Walker's Butler County powerhouse, spearheaded by 15-year-old sophomore Jerry Lucas—an amazingly agile youth who stands almost 6-feet 9—trounced Cleveland East Tech's higherto unbeaten Scarabs by 99 to 78 to reach the finals.

In Class B, the finalists today were Columbus St. Mary (24-1) and Arcanum (28-1). St. Mary's Ramblers were convincing 71-51 victors over Chagrin Falls, while Arcanum's Trojans swept top-rated and unbeaten Willshire aside 55-34 by holding 6-foot-10 All-Ohio center Gary Kesler to 16 points.

But Friday night's story belongs to Lucas, the trim youngster who is not only a point-getter deluxe, but is a great all-around ball-hawk and playmaker.

The big youngster, under the pressure of his first state tournament and facing a tall and talented team which had swept aside 23 straight opponents, scored an astounding 53 points.

No one in Class A history has ever done anything like it. The previous record of 31 was set by Dick Vice of Middletown in 1952 against Cincinnati Withrow. Lucas' 50 field goals were far ahead of Vice's record of 13, and his 13 of 15 free throws bettered the 11 made by Columbus East's Rollie Harris in 1951.

Middletown's 99 wiped away the tourney record of 75, and the two-team total of 177 bettered the two-team record—both set in 1953 when Middletown defeated Cleveland St. Ignatius. The 38 field goals scored by the Middles equaled the old mark of 31 set by Steubenville in 1952 against Toledo Central.

Canton McKinley, with the state football and swimming titles already tucked away, has the tools to make a great fight in tonight's finals. The Bulldogs were behind Columbus North 14-13 at the quarter, and led only 25-24 at the half, but broke the game wide open with a 26-point third session and 19 in the finale. Columbus North was held to 10 points in each of the last three periods.

Despite the huge victory margin, Middletown was behind the entire first half, drawing even once and taking the lead once just before the intermission as Lucas ran the Middle score from 24 to 36 by himself. In the third period he tied the count at 45-45, watched teammate Jay Byrd make it 47-45 with two free throws, and then tore the game open with a 12-point sprint to give Middletown an unsurmountable 59-46 edge which was never threatened.

Columbus St. Mary's Dave Barker, with 23 points, paced the Class B competitors, teammate Bill Stewart getting 20. Ron Puterbaugh of Arcanum, a classy 6-foot

Mighty Dons Collect NCAA Title Easily

EVANSTON, Ill. (P)—The San Francisco Dons today must rank among the greatest, if not the greatest, college basketball team ever put together.

They closed out a season of 29 consecutive victories and extended their string to an awe-inspiring 55 by trimming Iowa's Big Ten champions last night 83-71 to repeat for the NCAA title.

Iowa made a courageous stab at an upset and had the crowd of 10,600 at Northwestern's McGraw Hall cheering wildly by running up a 15-4 lead in the opening minutes.

"We were tight and tense," explained the Dons' dapper coach, Phil Woolpert, later. "But we had trailed by 11 points against California and Holy Cross earlier this year and I was never worried."

In the next seven minutes, Iowa's lead evaporated as the incomparable Bill Russell, Gene Brown and outside-shooting Hal Perry stormed the baskets.

Russell ended with 26 points. Brown and Carl Boldt 16 each and Perry 14. Carl Cain and Bill Seaberg each hit 17 for Iowa.

Tiger Jones Spoils Frenchman's Mark

NEW YORK (P)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, the spoiler of the middleweight division, has done it again. This time the victim was punch-scarred Charley Humez, France's European 160-pound champion, making his U. S. pro debut. Fourteen months ago it was Sugar Ray Robinson, on the comeback path.

Old Sugar Ray shrugged off the defeat and rebounded to regain the middleweight crown from Carl (Bobo) Olson. Humez, edged by the Tiger in a very close television 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden last night, hopes to do the same and get his long-sought shot at the world title.

Maxwell Leading Miami Beach Open

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—After two of the finest rounds in his golfing career, young Billy Maxwell led a par-shattering field of 62 pros into the third round of the Miami Beach Open today, but Pete Cooper hung doggedly on his heels. Despite his opening 64, which equaled the Bayshore Course record, and his 65 yesterday, the 26-year-old Odessa, Tex., shotmaker couldn't shake the Detroit.

Maxwell's midway total of 129 (15 under par) was only three strokes better than Cooper.

Defiance Cage Star Going To Cincy

CINCINNATI (P)—Larry Willey of Defiance, one of the best high school basketball players in Ohio, will enter the University of Cincinnati next fall, coach George Smith reports.

Willey is six feet, six inches tall. He averaged 25.2 points per game and won a place on the Associated Press first Class A All-Ohio team this year. He set 29 school marks.

2 senior, scored 18 as Willshire was nosed out and its championship dream ended for the second straight year. Willshire had won 27 in a row until running into the road block. Last year the club had a 28-0 mark when it lost to Lockland Wayne in the finals.

Friday night's Class A attendance was not announced, but was estimated at near 12,500. The afternoon "B" session drew 8,886.

MARION (P)—Three inmates of the Marion Correctional Institution have asked for their freedom in habeas corpus proceedings filed in court here.

James L. Caudill, sentenced from Marion County on a malicious entry charge, said he had been sentenced illegally. Alexander J. Slavice, sentenced from Cuyahoga County on a charge of malicious entry, claimed he was being held illegally under consecutive sentences instead of serving sentences concurrently. Arnie W. Cole of Hancock County, sentenced for forgery, claimed he had not been represented by counsel.

Hearings were set for April 2.

Bricker Reports No 'Pressures'

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), replying to a request for information on lobbyist pressure, says he knows of "no instances" of such pressure being put on him.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the special committee probing campaign expenditures and lobbying, asked all senators for examples of pressure by lobbyists. Bricker replied by letter that he hasn't heard of such pressures put on any other senator, either.

British Artist Believes U. S. Women Have Uncanny Ability

Associated Press Women's Editor American women have the uncanny ability to "wish" themselves into any mold they choose, observes Cecil Beaton, British photographer, author, artist, designer, lecturer and actor.

"It seems to me that today all American women have high cheekbones, long, graceful legs, delicate wrists and thin hands," says Beaton, who has studied beauty of many nationalities in his capacity as official photographer to Britain's royal family.

"A generation ago nobody had high cheekbones. Now everybody has them. I don't really understand how women manage to change their actual bone structure, but apparently they do. I think it all started with somebody like Marlene Dietrich."

Beaton, in New York in connection with the opening of the Broadway hit, "My Fair Lady", for which he designed the costumes, is tall, suave, faultlessly tailored and silver-haired, with a shrewd twinkle in his blue eyes. Discussing the difference between American and British beauty, he says: "British women are much more bound by tradition than Americans. They are more swayed by parental and family influences. And they look awful on the beach. Somehow they are not made for exposure."

"American women are much

Students Reminded Few Graduates Entering Science Field

Top Executive Says Shortage Developing Fast

Chemist Urging School Teachers Become 'Salesmen'

A lack of students studying for and entering into the field of science has been emphasized in Pickaway County and Circleville schools on many occasions.

Time and again, announcements have been made encouraging students to enter this field of study. The shortage of engineers and scientists is evident by the large starting salaries awaiting graduates from engineering schools.

Samuel Lenher, vice-president and adviser on research of one of the largest chemical firms in the United States, has said that "a vast increase in the number of boys and girls getting a scientific education is essential for the future welfare of the American people."

He urged teachers to be "salesmen for science."

Lenher pointed out that since the turn of the century, technology not only has changed the nature of our work, but the nature of our work force. Some knowledge of science, he said, will be required of almost everyone who takes a useful place in tomorrow's industry, or even in the running of a home.

HE STRESSED that the pace of technology is accelerating, not only because "each breach in the scientific frontier suggests new avenues for exploration," but because new tools developed in the last quarter-century, such as the electronic computer, have speeded up research.

The speaker said that a much larger "elite corps" of graduate scientists will be needed to insure continued improvement of our standard of living in the face of an expanding population and depletion of our natural resources.

"The future is in the hands of men and women who have scientific knowledge and training," he said.

Technology itself has largely created the problem because the more it advances modern living and national defense the greater is the need for skilled men and women to keep up the pace, he explained. There is not only a grace shortage in the number of scientists and engineers, but for every-day living and every-day jobs people need at least some education in science.

"The day of common labor is coming to a close," Lenher said. "To meet the requirements of improved technology, the common laborer is becoming skilled, and the skilled worker is becoming a technician. This is upgrading rather than retrogression, and the increasing use of minds rather than muscles has been reflected in the sharp climb of wages and salaries. We are all better off.

"It is obvious that while we will continue to need an elite corps of scientists to devise the technology which accounts for industrial progress, we also will need people with enough scientific education to understand how to operate the new machines and processes," Lenher added.

"Our industrial revolution didn't end with the coming of mass production. It is gathering speed like a truck rolling down hill," he said, speaking of the growth of scientific knowledge and the flow of new devices created for ever-broader research. "As industrial technology becomes increasingly complex at an increasingly faster rate," a great many more scientists will be needed to carry on the work.

"I can think of nothing more important to the future of our country than a vastly increased participation of our young people in scientific education," Lenher declared. He cited reports that the nation needs twice the present output of 45,000 engineers and scientists per year and said that "this inadequacy will grow as our population increases and as the scientific side of our economy becomes more complex."

"We have an outstanding primary school system in this country. In mass education through the first eight grades we have been highly successful. But it seems to me that you have an opportunity to help prevent the development in our secondary schools of an anti-intellectual atmosphere" which would place undue emphasis "upon sports, the arts, civic affairs, and even baton-twirling rather than upon the disciplines essential to learning."

"Perhaps our educational values need revision. It is quite proper that the schools should 'train for citizenship,' but science should be a part of that training. . . . Or must we become reconciled to 'soft' standards for high school diplomas so that young people can avoid—but only temporarily—the unpleasant notion that life involves things called competition and hard work?" he asked.

Lenher pointed out that most young people select their careers in high school, and hence the teachers can influence their choice and can detect scientific talent early. "The inspiration of teaching, and the fervor of selling, can accomplish much for the welfare of our country."

Ice Conditions On Lakes Eyed

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Ice Committee of the Lake Carriers Assn. says some ore carriers "may" get underway March 31.

After hearing reports from the Coast Guard on ice conditions in the upper lakes, the committee March 31 would be a tentative starting time for ore vessels now in the lower lakes.

Until now, April 4 or 5 had been about the earliest starting time mentioned. There was some talk of trying to use the straits of Mackinac next Monday, but the Coast Guard advised waiting for further reports.

Army Defense System Able To Detect, Down Aircraft

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—A newly unveiled Army anti-aircraft system today was said by Secretary Brucker to be capable of detecting an enemy's "aircraft and missiles" and coordinating the firing of Nike missiles against them.

The Army calls the complex radar-Nike system "missile master." Newsmen were shown the first developmental center which controls Nike defenses of the Washington-Baltimore area.

Their current defenses apparently include 11 Nike installations spotted over a wide area. Each such installation has eight launchers.

The missile master system can be operated either independently or in conjunction with the over-all "Sage" air and anti-aircraft defense systems run by the Air Force.

7,432,000 Persons Listed As On Government Payrolls

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau said today that more than 4 per cent of the U. S. population has federal, state or local government employment.

The bureau's annual public employment report said that last October there were 7,432,000 government employees of which 2,378,000 were federal employees, 1,250,000 employees of state governments, and 3,804,000 worked for local governments. These included part as well as fulltime employees.

Estimated in terms of full time, there were 6,592,000 employees of which 2,255,000 worked for the federal government, 1,085,000 for states, and 3,252,000 for local governments.

The monthly payroll of all governments was $2,264,500,000, of which $845,700,000 went to federal civilians, $340,400,000 to state and

IRONTON (AP)—Kenneth Smith, 25, and Donald Neal, 20, both of nearby South Point, were indicted yesterday for second degree murder in the beating death of Marion Hall, 47, of Sheridan.

Authorities said Smith and Neal admitted beating Hall to death with their fists at a Sheridan drive-in theater. The body was thrown into the Ohio River, later recovered and buried in a field near Ironton. It was exhumed by authorities Feb. 17.

U. S. Reds All In Tizzy Over Stalin Policy

NEW YORK (AP)—Moscow's new Stalin-deflation campaign has put American Communists in the middle of a big tizzy.

It caught them in flat-footed surprise. There was speculation that it also may have caused a party split foreshadowing a top - rank purge, although party officials themselves hastened to label such talk "nonsense."

The Daily Worker, official party publication, has devoted much space to the situation — including pronouncements by party bigwigs which outsiders regarded as conflicting.

The Worker also has carried a number of letters to the editor giving a variety of views. One even blistered the paper for hailing each new Moscow attitude without a thought as to what had been written previously.

Other New York newspapers have made much of all this. The Times viewed Daily Worker articles by Editor Alan Max and U. S. Communist party Chairman William Z. Foster as reflecting a difference of opinion as to how American Reds should react to the Moscow development. The Times saw this as an indication of a party split in this country.

The World-Telegram and Sun, in an article by Frederick Wolfman, declared that "some heads are expected to roll."

Travel Expenses Slated For Boost

COLUMBUS (AP)—The ceiling on travel expenses for about 20,000 state officials and employees will be raised April 1.

New regulations drafted by Finance Director John M. Wilcoxon with administration approval provide that the daily limits for meals and lodging will be for "reasonable actual expenses." The expense limits now are $3.25 per day for each item.

An allowance of 6½ cents a mile for travel in personally owned automobiles will be boosted to 8 cents a mile for the first 500 miles. After 500 miles, the old scale will apply.
